

Call of papers

ISO is celebrating two decades of ISO 9001 and a decade of ISO 14001. The celebrations will coincide with the plenary meeting of ISO TC 207 during 22-29 June, 2007 at Beijing, China. A special seminar on ISO 14001 will be organized.

To contribute to the success of the seminar ISO has invited members for participation and call for papers on the following topics.

- Green Olympics : Olympic Games and urban eco-environment, environment friendly materials and products application in construction of Olympic arenas, energy conservation and Olympic Games, the applications of environmental management system and certification in the fields of construction, and service for Olympic Games.
- Environmental Management : environmental protection strategies and policies, environmental management systems, environmental labels, life cycle assessment, environment performance evaluation, environmental information communication, environment friendly materials & products and standardization, green education.
- Sustainable Development : Clean energy, cleaner production (pollution prevention), greenhouse gas control and standardization, clean materials and waste management.

Papers can focus on policies, programmes, standardization, new technology developments, and applications. All papers shall address new and original developments without commercial nature.

Deadlines:

- 2007 April 15 : Final papers due to SAC/TC 207 secretariat.
- 2007 May 15 : Notification of papers acceptance.
- 2007 June 10 : Power point presentations are due to the secretariat.

For further details please check on ISO website at www.iso.org